

The Water Cycle Reservoirs and Fluxes

The diagram above represents Earth's seven reservoirs of water (gray rectangles) and the fluxes that interconnect them (labeled arrows).

Units for reservoirs are km^3

Units for flux values are $km^3/year$

Fluxes for the thin arrows without values are less than one $km^3/year$