

National Association of Geoscience Teachers

James H. Shea Award

For contributions to writing or editing of Earth Science Materials

In commemoration of his long-standing commitment to promoting high-quality geoscience education

Each year, the National Association of Geoscience Teachers presents the James H.
Shea Award to an individual for exceptional contributions in the form of writing and/or editing of Earth Science materials.

This prestigious award was established in 1991 by the officers of NAGT in honor of James H. Shea, long-time editor of the Journal of Geoscience Education.

To Make a Nomination:

Submit a letter that includes a description of the nominee's contributions in the form of writing and/or editing that are of interest to the general public and/or Earth Science teachers. The letter must detail both the nature of the contributions and the reasons why the contributions should be judged as exceptional.

Send all materials in one package to:

Carl Drummond, Editor
Journal of Geoscience Education
Department of Geosciences
Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne
Fort Wayne, IN 46805-1499

Nomination Deadline: April 1

For more information about the award, check out

<http://www.nagt.org/nagt/programs/shea.html>